

Silent letters

The letters g and k don't make any sound when they are used in front of n, and the letter w is silent in front of r. Can you draw a ring around six silent letters in Lem's poem?

I wrote a note to Beaky.

It said, 'Please knock, don't gnaw.

You know it's wrong to nibble.

You've wrecked my new front door.'

Ant needs to add a silent g, k or w to complete his words. Look at the pictures and fill in the gaps.

When you have used a letter, draw a line through it.
