

Cut-and-stick castle

Make the rectangles different sizes.

1. Tear a long strip of green paper for the grass. Glue it to the bottom of a big piece of paper.

2. Rip some rectangles for towers from bright paper. You could use giftwrap or pages from old magazines.

3. Glue the biggest shape in the middle. Add other rectangles at the sides, overlapping each other.

4. Cut out some triangles for the roofs. Make sure that they are wider than the tops of the towers.

5. Glue the roofs onto the tops of the towers. Then, cut out a door and glue it onto the castle.

6. Cut out window shapes from darker paper and glue them on. Add some windowsills, too.
