

Many trees are HUNDREDS of years old. They've stood growing in the same spot while people have come and gone around them. Imagine you are an enormous, ancient tree and write about what you've seen on the next page.

What has lived in your branches? How many creatures have you given a home to?

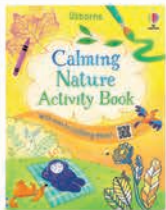

Are you near the sea, or on a hill, or in the grounds of a mighty castle?

What have you seen?

Where in the world are you growing?

Scientists think the oldest tree in the world might have been growing for nearly 5,000 years.

A large area of the page with horizontal blue lines for writing, and a vertical yellow margin line on the left side.

Usborne Activities

Find more activities like this in The Calming Nature Activity Book. Share your activities with us #UsborneActivities.

Illustrations by Heloise Mab, Ada Crowe
Copyright © Usborne Publishing Limited, 2024.

