RAVENA GURON

1. How did Jess's experience at Heybuckle differ from the rest of her classmates? What factors do you think played a role in this?
2. Why do you think Hugh seemed to enjoy the conflict between Millie and Clem?
3. Did you have any early predictions about who the killer was? What made you think this?
4. Mr. Willet says that even the people you know well can have all kinds of secrets. What examples from the book prove this point?
5. Even as the threats started to ramp up towards Jess and her friends, she still decided to stay at Heybuckle to try and solve the crime. What were her motivations for this?
6. Why do you think the Regia Club was able to remain anonymous for most of the story?
7. How did Jess's friendships with Clem, Summer, and Tommy evolve throughout the book?
8. Did you immediately believe Millie when she confessed to being the leader of the Regia Club? If not, what made you doubt her?
9. What is the role that money and status play in this story?
10. Did the ending of the story surprise you? If not, what were the clues that tipped you off?
